SECTION 01

Brand Foundations

LaunchPoint Growth is a startup-focused sales and marketing consultancy based in Karachi, Pakistan. We help early-stage businesses find their audience, sharpen their message and turn marketing activity into measurable results. A consultancy sells judgement and trust, so how we present ourselves is not decoration: it is evidence of how we work.

Element	Statement
Brand name	LaunchPoint Growth (written as LaunchPoint Growth in text; the logo wordmark is lowercase).
Tagline	Clear strategy. Meaningful growth.
Brand idea	Your launch is a beginning. Your growth is the goal.
Mission	Make effective growth strategy accessible, practical and measurable for emerging businesses.
Vision	A world where promising startups have the clarity and tools to grow with confidence.
Brand promise	Less guesswork, more direction: one connected plan that links audience, message, channels and sales, with transparent measurement.
Personality	A sharp, friendly strategist with a startup mindset: ambitious but grounded, creative but accountable to numbers.

1.1 Brand values

Value	What it means	How it shows up in marketing
Startup-first	We understand limited budgets, small teams and big ambitions.	Practical recommendations, no unnecessary jargon, no inflated packages.
Clarity	We reduce noise and focus on priorities.	Simple language; one message per piece; clear next step.
Connected thinking	Audience, message, channels and sales work together.	Campaigns always link to the sales journey and to a measurable goal.
Transparency	We show our reasoning and our numbers.	Honest claims, labelled illustrations, clear scope and pricing logic.
Accountability	We measure what we do and improve it.	KPIs on every campaign; learning shared openly, including what did not work.

1.2 Brand pillars (service areas)

Our four service areas are the content and messaging pillars used across every channel:

Service pillar	Customer problem it solves
Market research and positioning	“Who is my customer and why should they choose me?”
Digital marketing and brand visibility	“How do I get noticed without wasting budget?”
Sales strategy and conversion	“How do I turn interest into paying, returning customers?”
Pricing and performance insights	“Are my prices right, and is my marketing working?”

SECTION 02

Target Audience

We serve ambitious early-stage businesses that need to grow without guesswork. The profiles below are working assumptions based on the company concept and market context. They must be validated through at least ten customer interviews and early enquiry data during the first 90 days, then updated.

2.1 Audience segments

Segment	Who they are	Priority
Founder-led startups	Pre-seed to seed-stage companies in Karachi and across Pakistan with 1–20 people, a product or service ready for market, and no in-house marketing function.	Primary
Small and growing businesses	Owners of established small businesses launching a new product, entering a digital channel or looking to professionalise sales.	Primary
Ecosystem partners	Incubators, accelerators, co-working spaces, university entrepreneurship programmes, mentors and business networks that recommend advisors to founders.	Secondary (referral)
Professional referrers	Accountants, lawyers, web developers and designers who meet founders at the moment they need growth support.	Secondary (referral)

2.2 Customer profiles

	The first-time founder	The small-business owner going digital	The growth-stage manager
Situation	Launching or has just launched; the idea is strong, but the customer base is tiny.	Has loyal local customers; wants online visibility and more consistent sales.	Runs sales or marketing at a small company; under pressure to show results.
Needs	Clear positioning, a first customer acquisition plan, a realistic budget.	Simple digital presence, repeat-customer system, fair pricing.	Measurement, process and priorities; an experienced second opinion.
Frustrations	Conflicting advice; agencies selling activity instead of outcomes.	Unsure where to start; fear of wasting money on ads.	Scattered tools; hard to prove ROI.
Buying triggers	Launch date, fundraising, first sales plateau.	Competitor activity; slow season.	New targets; new budget; leadership asking for numbers.
Likely objections	“We cannot afford a consultancy.”	“I can do it myself.”	“We already have an agency.”
Best channels	LinkedIn, referrals, founder communities, Instagram.	Facebook, Instagram, WhatsApp, Google search.	LinkedIn, email, webinars.
Our message	A practical growth plan sized for a startup budget.	Visibility and sales that fit your business.	One connected strategy and transparent KPIs.

2.3 Audience principles

- Respect the reader's time and budget. Lead with the problem and the next step, not our credentials.
- Speak to people, not segments. Use plain language and examples a founder recognises.
- Be accessible. Content is written at a clear level of English and may be adapted into Urdu or Roman Urdu where it genuinely helps the audience, while keeping the same voice and the same claims.
- Do not target vulnerable or inappropriate audiences. Ads and outreach are directed to business decision-makers; we do not target minors or exploit sensitive personal circumstances.

SECTION 03

Market Positioning

3.1 Positioning statement

Positioning statement

For early-stage founders and small-business owners who need to find customers and grow without wasting a limited budget, LaunchPoint Growth is a startup-focused sales and marketing consultancy that connects audience, message, channels and sales into one measurable plan. Unlike generalist agencies that sell activity, or do-it-yourself tools that leave the thinking to you, we deliver clear priorities, practical tools and transparent measurement.

3.2 Competitive landscape

Alternative	Their strength	Their gap	Our response
Freelance social media managers	Low cost, flexible	Often tactics without strategy or sales link	Strategy first; marketing tied to the full sales journey
Full-service agencies	Broad capacity, big-brand credibility	Cost and process may not suit small budgets; retainers focused on activity	Startup-sized scope, focused priorities, outcome-led reporting
DIY tools, templates and courses	Cheap and immediate	Founder still carries the thinking and the time	Done-with-you plans and tools the team can execute
Hiring in-house	Dedicated and embedded	Expensive and slow for early-stage firms	Senior thinking on demand; build the plan before building the team
Other consultancies	Experience and frameworks	Often generic or enterprise-oriented	Local market insight and a startup-first approach

3.3 Value proposition and messaging hierarchy

Level	Message
Core promise	Turn marketing activity into meaningful, measurable growth.
Pillar 1	Know your customer. Market research and positioning that sharpen who you serve and why they should choose you.
Pillar 2	Be seen by the right people. Digital marketing across content, SEO, social media, email and focused paid promotion.

Level	Message
Pillar 3	Convert with confidence. A clear sales journey from qualified leads and follow-ups to conversion and retention.
Pillar 4	Measure and improve. Value-based pricing and KPIs that make decisions evidence-led.
Proof points	Our process (Discover, Strategize, Activate, Optimize); tangible deliverables; transparent KPIs. Client results are added only once real, verified and permitted (Sections 12 and 13).

3.4 Positioning rules

- We position on clarity, practicality and measurability, not on being the cheapest or the biggest.
- We never disparage competitors. Comparisons are factual, fair and verifiable (Section 12).
- We do not claim experience, clients, awards or results we do not have. Until case studies exist, we sell the method, the people and the deliverables.

SECTION 04

Brand Voice and Tone

Our voice is how the brand sounds in every sentence. It stays the same everywhere; our tone flexes with the situation.

4.1 Voice attributes

Attribute	We are	We are not
Clear	Plain, direct and specific. Short sentences. One idea at a time.	Jargon-heavy, vague or buzzword-driven.
Practical	Focused on what to do next, with examples and tools.	Theoretical or abstract.
Confident	Calm and certain about our method; honest about uncertainty.	Arrogant, boastful or promising guaranteed results.
Warm	Encouraging and respectful of founders' effort and constraints.	Cold, condescending or salesy.
Evidence-led	Explains the reasoning and cites data when we have it.	Making claims without support.

4.2 The LaunchPoint writing pattern

Our website headlines follow a consistent two-beat rhythm: an ambition followed by a practical commitment. Use this pattern for headlines and key messages:

Pattern	Existing examples
Short statement. Short contrast or promise.	Big ambitions. Smarter growth. Less guesswork. More direction. Your launch is a beginning. Your growth is the goal.
Confident verbs, concrete nouns	Find your audience, sharpen your message, turn activity into results.

4.3 Tone by situation

Situation	Tone	Example
Website and brochures	Confident, clear, inviting	“Tell us where your business is today and where you want it to go.”
Social media (educational)	Friendly, helpful, concise	“Three questions to ask before you spend on your first ad.”
Sales emails and proposals	Professional, specific, respectful	“Here is what we heard, what we recommend, and how we will measure it.”
Responding to criticism	Calm, humble, solution-focused	“Thank you for telling us. Here is what we are doing to put it right.”
Delays or mistakes	Honest, accountable, no excuses	“We missed the deadline. The new date is Thursday and here is why.”

4.4 Writing rules

- Use active voice and everyday words. Prefer “use” to “utilise” and “help” to “leverage”.
- Write to “you” and refer to ourselves as “we”. Keep paragraphs short.
- Lead with the benefit, then the proof, then the call to action.
- Use plain numbers and name the period or source. Avoid unnecessary exclamation marks, all-caps and slang.
- Use British or Pakistani English spelling consistently (for example, “optimise”, “colour”). Use the PKR currency code for prices and keep the format consistent: PKR 150,000.
- Avoid superlatives (“best”, “#1”, “guaranteed”) unless they can be proven and pass the claim check in Section 12.
- Write calls to action as clear next steps: “Build your growth plan”, “Let’s talk”.

4.5 Words we use and avoid

Prefer	Avoid
practical, clear, measurable, focused, startup-ready, next step	guru, ninja, rockstar, game-changing, disruptive, revolutionary
“We recommend”, “our estimate is”	“Guaranteed”, “overnight”, “make money fast”
“Help you reach”, “support your growth”	“Dominate the market”, “crush your competitors”

SECTION 05

Logo Usage

The logo is a lime rounded-square mark containing three rising bars, paired with the lowercase wordmark launchpointgrowth. The ascending bars express momentum and measured growth. Always use the supplied master artwork; never recreate the logo by hand.

5.1 Logo versions

Primary logo – on light backgrounds

Primary logo – on dark backgrounds

Icon only – for avatars and favicons

One-colour – on brand lime (print, stamps, embossing)

5.2 Clear space and minimum size

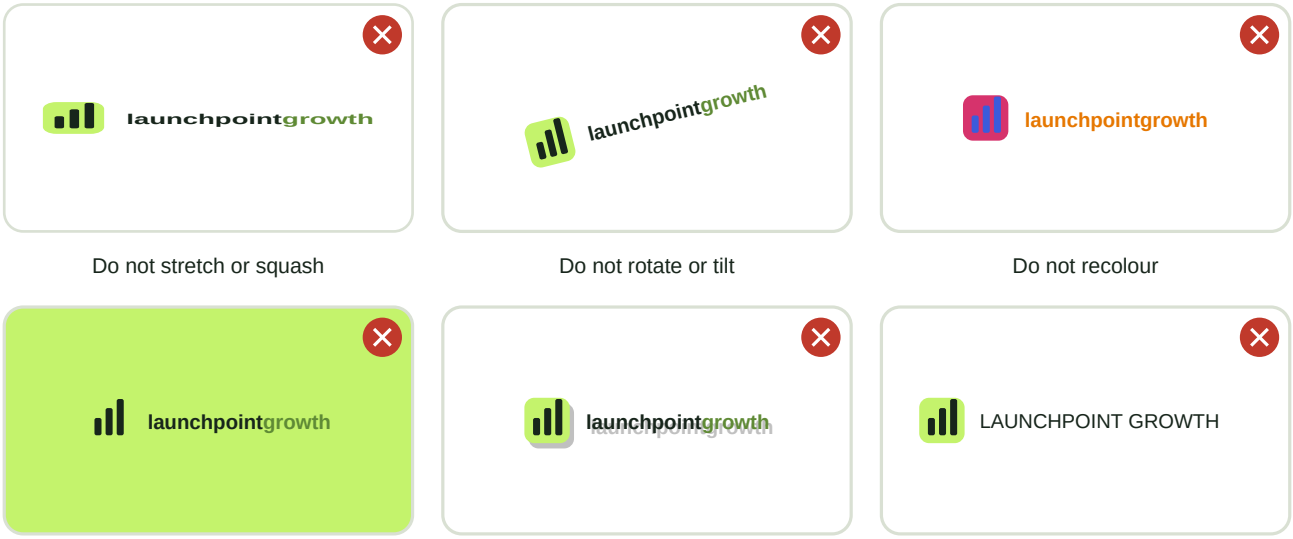

x = half the height of the logo mark. Keep this margin clear on all four sides.

Item	Rule
Clear space	Keep a margin equal to x (half the height of the logo mark) free of text, images and edges on all sides.
Minimum size: full logo	30 mm wide in print; 120 px wide on screen.
Minimum size: icon	8 mm in print; 24 px on screen (16 px favicon uses the icon only).

Item	Rule
Placement	Top-left on documents and web pages; bottom-right or centre on social graphics and presentations. Do not place it where it is crowded by other elements.
Backgrounds	Use the light version on white, cream and light photos; the dark version on Forest Ink and dark photos; the one-colour version on lime or in single-colour print.
Co-branding	When shown with a client or partner logo, give both equal visual weight, separate them with clear space and use a divider line. Partner logos are used only with written permission.

5.3 Incorrect use

Do not stretch or squash | Do not rotate or tilt | Do not recolour

Do not use low-contrast backgrounds | Do not add shadows or effects | Do not retype or rearrange

- Do not change the proportions, spacing, order or wording of the mark and wordmark.
- Do not place the logo on busy images or low-contrast colours; use a supported version or a solid panel.
- Do not use the logo to imply endorsement, partnership or certification that does not exist.

SECTION 06

Colour, Typography and Visual Style

6.1 Colour palette

The palette is drawn directly from the LaunchPoint Growth website: deep forest green for confidence and stability, bright lime for energy and growth, and warm cream for calm, readable space.

Forest Ink
Primary text, dark backgrounds, headers

#17251B
RGB 23, 37, 27

Launch Lime

RGB 226, 231, 222

Pale Lime

#EEF9D6
RGB 238, 249, 214

6.2 Colour proportions and use

- Aim for roughly 60% cream or white, 30% Forest Ink, 10% Launch Lime. Lime is an accent, not a base colour.
- Use Forest Ink for body text. Use Launch Lime for calls to action, key figures and highlights, and on dark backgrounds.
- Use lime as text only on Forest Ink, never on white or cream.
- Do not introduce new colours into brand materials. For charts, use the palette with tints of Moss, Growth Green and Lime Deep.

6.3 Accessibility and contrast

Text colour	Background	Contrast	Use for
Forest Ink	Cream	14.8 : 1	AAA – all text
Forest Ink	White	15.9 : 1	AAA – all text
Forest Ink	Launch Lime	12.4 : 1	AAA – all text
White	Forest Ink	15.9 : 1	AAA – all text
Launch Lime	Forest Ink	12.4 : 1	AAA – all text
Moss	White	7.4 : 1	AAA – all text
Slate	White	4.9 : 1	AA – all text
Growth Green	White	3.2 : 1	Large text only (18 pt+ or 14 pt bold)
Launch Lime	White	1.3 : 1	Do not use for text

Never rely on colour alone to convey meaning in charts or status indicators; add labels or patterns. All published images need alternative text, and videos need captions.

6.4 Typography

Role	Typeface	Style	Notes
Headlines and display	Manrope	Bold / ExtraBold, tight letter-spacing	Short two-beat headlines; sentence case
Body and interface text	DM Sans	Regular / Medium	Comfortable line height (about 1.6)
Labels and eyebrows	DM Sans	Bold, uppercase, wide tracking	Often in Growth Green or lime, e.g. “01 / WHO WE ARE”
Fallback	Arial or Helvetica	Regular / Bold	When brand fonts are unavailable (e.g. email)

Both typefaces are free Google Fonts. Keep headings to a maximum of two levels per page and body text no smaller than 11 pt in print or 16 px on screen. Left-align body text; avoid long passages in capitals.

6.5 Imagery, icons and brand motifs

- Photography: authentic, natural, well-lit images of real people, work and places. Do not use cliché stock handshakes. Show identifiable people only with their written consent.
- Illustration and data visuals: simple, flat and built from the palette. Label axes and sources.
- Shape language: rounded cards (about 14 px radius), thin mist-line borders, generous white space.
- Motifs: the up-right arrow symbol on calls to action; the small lime eyebrow dot; numbered section tags; the ascending bars from the logo as a growth symbol.
- Synthetic imagery: AI-generated images must not depict real clients, staff, testimonials or results, and are labelled when they could be mistaken for real photographs (Section 7.4).

SECTION 07

Social Media Rules

7.1 Channels and their roles

Channel	Role	Content focus	Starting cadence
LinkedIn	Primary B2B authority and referral channel	Founder-focused insights, frameworks, permissioned case summaries	3–4 posts per week
Instagram	Brand personality and visual education	Carousels, short videos, checklists, behind the scenes	3 posts per week
Facebook	Local reach, community and paid audiences	Event promotion, community posts, lead-generation ads	2 posts per week
WhatsApp Business (optional)	Enquiry handling and follow-up	Replies to people who contacted us; never bulk messaging without consent	Respond within 1 business day
Email newsletter	Nurture and retention	Monthly insights, tools, offers	1–2 sends per month
Website blog	Search visibility and long-form authority	SEO-led guides and explainers	2 articles per month

The company will start with the three channels on the website (LinkedIn, Instagram, Facebook) and add others only when it can maintain quality and consistency. Quality beats quantity: it is better to post less than to post work that is off-brand or unverified.

7.2 Account governance

- All accounts are registered in the company's name with a company email address. Administrator rights are held by a Director and the Marketing Lead; credentials are stored in a company password manager.
- Multi-factor authentication is enabled on every account. No one shares passwords by chat or email.
- Handles, bios, profile images and banners follow this brand guide. The icon is used as the avatar.
- Former team members and agencies lose access on or before their last day.

7.3 Posting and engagement rules

Do	Do not
Use approved templates, colours and tone of voice.	Post confidential client information, metrics or screenshots without written permission.
Credit sources and image creators.	Publish unverified claims, statistics or results.
Reply to comments and messages within 1 business day.	Engage in party-political, sectarian or divisive debates on brand channels.
Use accessible formatting: alt text, captions, readable contrast.	Buy followers, likes or reviews, or use engagement pods.
Disclose paid partnerships and sponsored content clearly.	Delete legitimate criticism or argue publicly.
Report mistakes immediately and correct them openly.	Use copyrighted music, images or fonts without a licence.

7.4 Responsible use of AI and third-party content

- AI tools may support research, drafting and ideas, but every output is reviewed by a person for accuracy, originality and tone before publishing. Staff do not paste confidential client data into public AI tools.
- Do not use AI to invent testimonials, case studies, statistics, client names or team members.
- Label AI-generated or heavily edited imagery when viewers could reasonably think it is a real photograph of real people or real results.
- Reuse of others' content requires a licence or permission and credit. Platform terms and community guidelines always apply.

7.5 Personal accounts and employee advocacy

Team members are encouraged to share company content and their own professional insights. When speaking about work, they must make clear they are sharing personal views where relevant, protect client confidentiality, disclose their connection to LaunchPoint Growth when recommending it, and never post commitments, prices or claims on behalf of the company that have not been approved.

61–90	Optimise	Review KPIs against baseline; double down on what converts; refine profiles and messaging; publish first permissioned case study if available.

SECTION 09

Advertising and Campaign Planning

9.1 Channel roles

Channel	Role in the funnel	Typical use
SEO and website	Awareness and intent capture	Guides, service pages and fast, accessible pages
Organic social media	Awareness and trust	Regular educational content and community
Email marketing	Nurture and retention	Welcome sequence, newsletters, follow-ups to enquiries
Paid search	High-intent capture	Targeted keywords for services and problems
Paid social	Awareness, retargeting and lead generation	Lead forms, workshop promotion, retargeting website visitors
Partnerships and referrals	Trusted introductions	Incubators, networks, professional referrers

9.2 Campaign planning process

Every campaign follows the same four-stage process we use with clients: Discover, Strategize, Activate, Optimize.

Stage	What happens	Output
Discover	Define the business goal, audience, offer, budget and constraints; review past performance.	Completed campaign brief (Appendix B)
Strategize	Choose channels, message, creative approach, landing page, tracking and KPIs; set budget and timeline.	Campaign plan and approval
Activate	Produce creative, set up tracking and UTM links, run the claim and compliance checklist, launch.	Live campaign and monitoring plan
Optimize	Review results weekly, test one change at a time, pause what does not work, record learnings.	Weekly notes; post-campaign report

9.3 Advertising standards

- Truthful and complete. Every ad passes the claim check in Section 12. Offers state the main terms, price basis, dates and conditions.
- Brand-consistent. Ads use approved logo, colours, typography and tone of voice.
- Message match. The landing page continues the promise made in the ad and has one clear call to action.
- Accessible. Sufficient contrast, readable text size and captions on video.
- Clearly identifiable. Sponsored or paid content is marked as such according to platform rules.
- Respectful targeting. Targeting by business role, interest and behaviour is fine; we do not use discriminatory targeting, target minors or exploit personal vulnerabilities, and we follow platform policies.
- No misleading urgency. Countdowns, “limited spots” and deadlines must be real.

9.4 Testing, budget and spend control

- Test one variable at a time (audience, message, creative or landing page), with a defined hypothesis and success measure. Allow enough time and volume before judging; do not stop tests early on a small number of clicks.
- Start small, then scale only what shows acceptable cost per qualified lead and customer acquisition cost.
- Set daily and lifetime spend caps on every ad platform and keep spend within the approved campaign budget. Budget approvals, ad-account ownership and reconciliation follow the Finance and Expense Management SOP.
- Pause any campaign that overspends by more than 10%, receives complaints about accuracy, or breaches these guidelines, until reviewed.

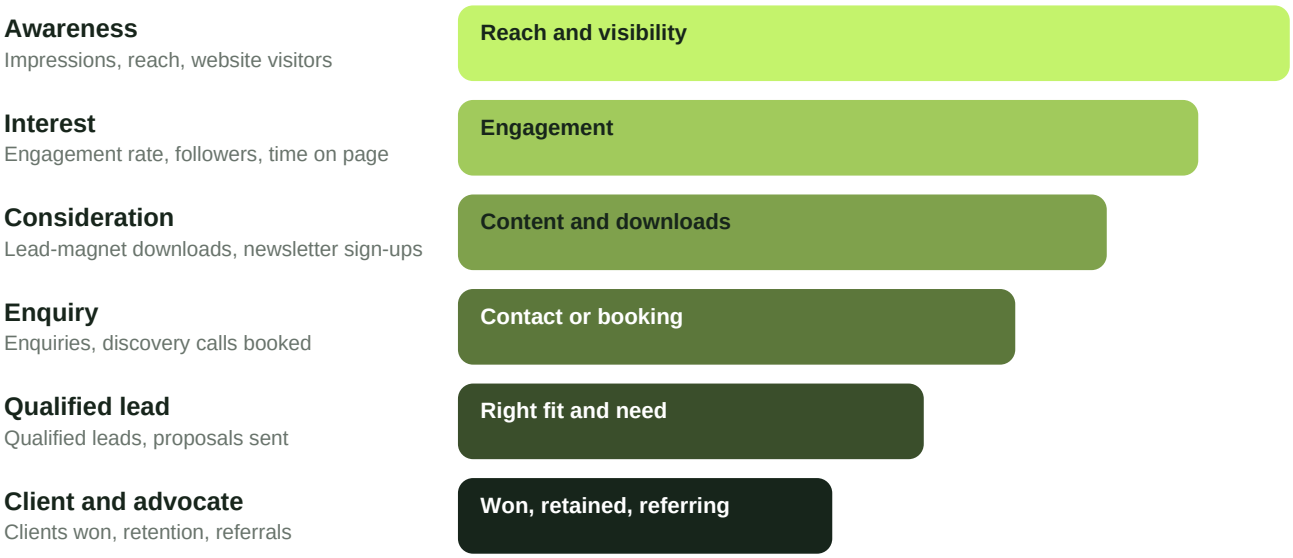

9.5 Post-campaign review

Within five working days of a campaign ending, the Marketing Lead produces a one-page review covering: goal versus result; spend; leads, qualified leads and clients won; cost per lead and CAC; what worked and what did not; and recommendations. Reviews are filed and shared with the Directors, and the learning is added to the next campaign brief.

SECTION 10

Lead Generation Strategy

Lead generation connects the brand to the sales process in the Sales and Marketing Plan. The funnel below shows how a stranger becomes a client and an advocate, and which metric we use at each stage.

10.1 Lead generation tactics

Tactic	How it works	Lead source tag
Website enquiry form and booking	Clear calls to action on every page; discovery call or consultation.	website
Search (SEO) content	Guides that answer founders' questions and lead to a related lead magnet.	seo
Lead magnets	Useful downloads such as a Startup Growth Plan checklist, positioning template or KPI tracker, exchanged for an email with consent.	leadmagnet
LinkedIn and personal outreach	Helpful, personalised conversations with relevant founders; never mass copy-and-paste spam.	linkedin
Referral and partnership programme	Relationships with incubators, networks, accountants and lawyers; clear, honest referral terms.	referral
Events and workshops	Founder workshops, webinars and ecosystem events.	event
Paid campaigns	Lead-generation ads and search ads with message-matched landing pages.	paid
Email nurture	Welcome and follow-up sequence that educates and invites a conversation.	email

10.2 Lead qualification and response

Criterion	Questions to ask	Score
Fit	Is the business early-stage, in our service area and ready to act?	0–2
Need	Is there a clear problem we can solve (positioning, marketing, sales, pricing, measurement)?	0–2
Budget	Is there a realistic budget for the work they need?	0–2
Timing	Is there a launch, season or goal driving a decision in the next 90 days?	0–2
Decision-maker	Are we speaking with the person who can decide?	0–2

A total of 7–10 is a qualified lead (book a proposal call); 4–6 is a nurture lead (email sequence and check back); 0–3 is not a fit now (polite reply, resources, and referral if helpful). All enquiries receive a personal response within 1 business day, are logged in the CRM with their lead source, and follow the follow-up and conversion steps defined in the Sales and Marketing Plan.

10.3 Consent and data protection

- Collect only the personal data needed (name, business email, need) and say clearly how it will be used, with a link to the privacy notice.
- Use opt-in consent for marketing emails and messages, include a working unsubscribe, and honour opt-outs promptly. Do not buy or scrape contact lists.
- Keep lead data in the company CRM with restricted access; delete or update records on request, subject to legal requirements.
- The website form currently opens the visitor’s email app and stores nothing. Before running campaigns, connect it to a secure form service or CRM and add a consent statement and privacy notice.
- Confirm current data-protection and electronic-communications requirements with a legal advisor and review annually.

SECTION 11

Marketing KPIs and Reporting

Marketing exists to produce measurable business results. Each KPI below has a clear definition, owner and review rhythm. No target is fixed until a 90-day baseline exists, so that goals reflect real performance instead of guesses.

11.1 KPI framework

Stage	KPI	Definition	Frequency
Awareness	Reach and website visitors	Unique people reached; unique website visitors by source	Weekly
Engagement	Engagement rate	(Likes + comments + shares + saves) ÷ reach	Weekly
Lead generation	Leads and cost per lead (CPL)	Number of enquiries; marketing spend ÷ leads	Weekly

11.2 Planning assumptions for year one

The following are starting assumptions to be tested, not promises and not industry guarantees. They will be replaced by actual baselines after 90 days.

Measure	Starting assumption	Review point
Website visitor to enquiry	Aim for 1–3%	Day 90
Enquiry to qualified lead	Aim for 40–60%	Day 90
Qualified lead to client	Aim for 20–30%	Day 90
Cost of acquiring a client (CAC)	Keep below one-third of first-year gross profit per client	Quarterly
Response time to enquiries	Within 1 business day for 95% of enquiries	Monthly
Content consistency	At least 90% of planned posts published on time	Monthly

11.3 Tracking standards

- Every campaign link carries UTM parameters using lowercase and hyphens: utm_source (platform), utm_medium (organic, paid, email, referral), utm_campaign (campaign name and year-month), and utm_content (variant).
- Example: ?utm_source=linkedin&utm_medium=organic&utm_campaign=growth-plan-2026-11&utm_content=carousel-a
- Every lead record in the CRM stores source, campaign, date, status and outcome so ROI can be traced from spend to revenue.
- Analytics, tag and pixel installation is documented and reviewed quarterly. Consent banners are used where required.

11.4 Reporting rhythm

Report	Audience	Contents	When
Weekly snapshot	Marketing and sales team	Posts published, reach, leads, spend versus plan, top and bottom performers	Every Monday
Monthly performance report	Directors	KPI dashboard, spend and ROI, funnel conversion, campaign results, reputation summary, recommendations	By the 10th working day

Report	Audience	Contents	When
Quarterly review	Directors	Strategy, budget, audience insights, channel mix, plan for next quarter	Every quarter
Annual brand review	Directors	Performance, brand consistency audit, guideline updates	Each October

SECTION 12

Truthful Advertising and Claims

Honest marketing is a brand value and a legal and reputational necessity. As advisors on other people's growth, our own claims must be a model of accuracy.

12.1 Core principles

Principle	Meaning
Truthful	Everything we state is true and can be shown to be true.
Substantiated	We hold evidence before we make a claim, not after.
Not misleading	No exaggeration, omission or design that creates a false impression, including through images, headlines and small print.
Fair	Comparisons are accurate, like-for-like and verifiable. We do not disparage competitors.
Clear	Material terms, costs, limitations and conditions are disclosed upfront and legibly.
Respectful	No fear-based, shaming, discriminatory or exploitative messaging.

12.2 Claim substantiation guide

Type of claim	Evidence required before publishing	Wording rule
Client results (leads, revenue, growth)	Client data or report; written client permission; date range; method	State the period and context; say results vary; never imply typical unless it is
Testimonials and reviews	Signed consent; original message on file	Verbatim or approved edits only (Section 13)
Awards, certifications, memberships	Official proof in the company name	Name the body and year
Experience and team credentials	CV, certificates or verifiable public record	Do not overstate roles or tenure
Statistics and research	Link to a reliable, recent primary source	Cite the source and date; do not generalise
Comparisons with competitors	Documented, current, like-for-like data	Factual only; no naming unless legal review
Prices, offers and discounts	Approved price list; offer terms	Show total cost, duration, conditions; honour advertised prices
Number of clients or years in business	Records from the CRM and contracts	Use exact or conservative figures

12.3 Claims we never make

- Guaranteed results, guaranteed rankings, guaranteed leads or revenue, or “overnight” success.
- Superlatives such as “best”, “#1”, “leading” or “most trusted” without independent, current evidence.
- Client names, logos, case studies, quotes or results without written permission.
- Fake or purchased reviews, followers, awards or press mentions.
- Before-and-after results where the “after” is atypical and not clearly disclosed.
- Fabricated urgency, hidden fees or “free” offers with undisclosed conditions.
- Implied endorsement by platforms, regulators, universities or other organisations.

12.4 Current website items to resolve before promotion

A review of the existing website concept found items that must be corrected before launch or paid promotion. This protects the brand from making unsupported claims:

Item on website	Issue	Action
Dashboard figure “+38% qualified leads” and chart	Marked as illustrative in the design, but could be read as a real result	Replace with a real, permissioned result or keep clearly labelled “illustrative example, not a client result”
Email hello@launchpointgrowth.example	Placeholder address	Replace with the real company email in the page and form script
Leadership: “Strategy Lead” and “Marketing Lead”	Illustrative roles, no real names or profiles	Add real names, photos with consent and verified credentials
Social links (LinkedIn, Instagram, Facebook)	Point to the platforms’ home pages	Link to the official company profiles
Footer: “Concept brand for demonstration”	Removes the impression of a real offer	Remove at launch and show the registered business details
“Built for the next generation”, avatar badges	Decorative; may suggest an existing client base	Keep only if accurate; avoid implying client logos or testimonials

12.5 Legal and platform compliance

All marketing must follow applicable Pakistani law, consumer-protection requirements, intellectual-property law, and the advertising policies of each platform. The Directors will confirm current legal requirements with a legal advisor, and update this document when rules change. Where advice differs from this guide, the stricter rule applies.

SECTION 13

Testimonials, Reviews and Client Permissions

Testimonials and case studies are among our most persuasive marketing assets, and the most sensitive. They are used only with informed, written permission and must always be genuine.

13.1 Permission requirements

Asset	Permission needed	Who approves
Testimonial or review quote	Signed Testimonial and Media Consent Form (Appendix D) specifying wording, channels and duration	Client; Marketing Lead
Client name or logo	Written permission; confirm correct logo and usage	Client; Director
Case study with results	Client approval of the full text, data and charts; check against client confidentiality terms	Client; Director
Photo, video or recording of a person	Written consent from every identifiable person; parental consent for minors (not to be used in marketing without legal advice)	Individual; Marketing Lead
Screenshots or data from client accounts	Written permission; remove or anonymise confidential and personal data	Client; Director
Employee and partner stories	Written consent for name, image and quotes	Individual; Marketing Lead

13.2 Rules for using testimonials

- Genuine only. Testimonials are real statements from real clients who have used the service. We never write, invent, purchase, or edit them to change meaning. Edits are limited to spelling and length and are approved by the client.
- Scope and duration. Use only within the agreed channels and time period. Clients may withdraw consent at any time; material is removed within 5 working days of a request, where possible.
- Context. Where a testimonial describes a result, state the timeframe and context and add “individual results vary”. We do not present an exceptional result as typical.
- Material connection. If a client received a discount, gift or other benefit for a review, this is disclosed clearly. We do not give incentives that depend on a positive review.
- Records. The signed consent, original message and approval trail are stored with the content record for at least the life of the use plus 12 months.

13.3 Requesting reviews ethically

- Ask all satisfied and dissatisfied clients alike. Do not filter or “gate” requests to reach only happy customers.
- Ask at a natural point, such as project completion or a clear milestone, by a personal email or message that makes it easy to leave honest feedback and clearly says it is voluntary.
- Staff, their families and close associates do not post reviews of LaunchPoint Growth. We never buy, trade or post fake reviews.
- Reviews on third-party platforms are not edited by us, and any request to remove a review is made only through the platform’s legitimate process, for example where it is abusive or fake.

13.4 Approval workflow

Step	Action	Owner
1	Identify the client and asset; confirm the contract allows publicity.	Marketing Lead
2	Send the consent form with the exact proposed wording or content.	Marketing Lead
3	Client signs or confirms in writing; file stored in the permissions folder.	Client; Marketing Lead
4	Claim check (Appendix C) and Director approval.	Director
5	Publish with agreed credit; log the asset, location and expiry date.	Marketing Lead
6	Review the permissions log quarterly; remove expired or withdrawn assets.	Marketing Lead

2 – Moderate	Complaint about service, an error in our content, or a negative review	Within 4 working hours	Marketing Lead; inform a Director

4 – Crisis	Data breach, legal threat, safety issue, viral negative coverage or significant fraud	Immediately; start crisis steps	Both Directors; legal and technical advisors

14.3 Response principles

- Respond promptly, calmly and publicly where appropriate; move detailed discussion to private channels.
- Acknowledge, apologise where we are at fault, act, then follow up. Do not argue, blame or use defensive language.
- Never delete legitimate criticism. Remove only content that is abusive, spam, illegal or that discloses personal information, and keep a record of why.
- Protect confidentiality. Do not discuss client details publicly, even to defend ourselves.
- Correct errors visibly. If we published something inaccurate, correct it, note the correction and thank the person who raised it.
- Do not respond to trolls or harassment; report and block where platform rules allow.
- One voice. Only the Marketing Lead or a Director posts official responses.

14.4 Response guide

Situation	Suggested response approach
Positive review or mention	Thank them personally, add a specific detail, and invite further conversation. Do not copy-paste generic replies.
Negative review about service	Thank them, acknowledge the issue, apologise where appropriate, move the discussion to a direct channel, and report the outcome after resolution.
Factual error in our content	Correct quickly, publish a clear correction and review the claim check that failed.
False claim about us	Respond politely with verifiable facts; escalate to a Director; seek platform removal if a policy is breached.
Complaint from a client online	Acknowledge publicly in one brief message and take the conversation offline immediately.
Misuse of our brand by others	Document, request removal in writing, report to the platform, and consult a legal advisor if it continues.

14.5 Crisis procedure

Step	Action
1. Pause	Pause scheduled posts and paid campaigns that could appear insensitive or inflame the situation.
2. Assess	The Directors gather the facts, confirm what is known and unknown, and decide the severity level.
3. Contain	Secure accounts and data; preserve evidence; stop any harm in progress.
4. Communicate	Inform affected clients and team first. Issue a short factual holding statement, then regular updates. Do not speculate.
5. Resolve	Fix the cause, compensate fairly where we are responsible and confirm the outcome publicly if appropriate.
6. Review	Within 10 working days, hold a review, update procedures and training, and complete the incident log (Appendix E).

SECTION 15

Governance, Approvals and Review

15.1 Brand ownership and approvals

Social posts and blog content (routine)	Content creator	Marketing Lead

Partner, agency or freelancer-created materials	Partner	Marketing Lead before use; Director if external publication

15.2 Brand compliance

- Every new team member, intern, freelancer and agency receives these guidelines and a short briefing before creating any public content.
- The Marketing Lead completes a quarterly brand audit of channels, website and materials, and records corrections.
- Breaches are corrected promptly. Repeated or serious breaches, especially false claims or misuse of client information, are escalated to the Directors and may lead to disciplinary action or contract termination.
- Anyone who sees an inaccurate claim, offensive content or a possible breach must report it to the Marketing Lead or a Director immediately, with no fear of retaliation.

15.3 Review and updates

These guidelines are reviewed six months after launch and then annually, and sooner after a reputational incident, a change in services or positioning, or new legal requirements. Changes are approved by both Directors, recorded in the revision history and communicated to everyone who uses the brand.
